Have you heard all the buzz about invasive plants, but never knew where to start learning about them? Randy Prostak, UMass Extension Weed Specialist, will join us to give an overview about invasive plants – what they are, what you can do about it, and the philosophy behind management of invasive plants. He will also provide descriptions for some of our most well-established invasives, and best management strategies for the homeowner. Controlling invasive plants on your property is one of the best ways you can contribute to a healthy Lincoln landscape!

After the presentation, Conservation Department and LLCT Staff will update you on recent and upcoming conservation projects.
